

Wyoming Water Association 2010 Summer Tour July 15, 2010

Please join us for the 2010 Summer Water Resource Tour!

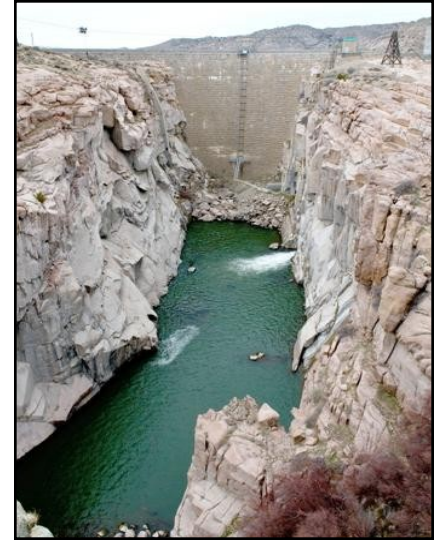

When: July 15th, 8:00 AM

Where: TBA, Casper, WY

Cost: $35 per person

What?: This year's tour will focus on the Platte River system near Casper, WY. At the tour's first stop, participants will visit the historic 101 year old Pathfinder Dam. The Bureau of Reclamation will be on hand to discuss the operation and management of the dam and the upcoming modification work to recapture approximately 54,000 acre-feet of storage space lost to sedimentation. After viewing the dam site and visitor center, participants will travel downstream to visit the Cardwell Easement, a restored river habitat below Pathfinder Dam and Reservoir. Wyoming Game and Fish will be present to talk about the site and discuss how water management and environmental restoration have affected the fish and wildlife habitats in the Platte River System. The last stop of the day will be the Dan Speas Fish Rearing Station. This station, just outside of Casper, is the largest production facility in the State of Wyoming with water supplied by the nearby Goose Egg Spring. Additional stops may be added. For more information as it becomes available please visit the WWA website at <http://www.wyomingwater.org/events.html>

Individual registration is $35 per person and includes tour transportation, meals, refreshments and informational material. Please see the registration form on the reverse side of this announcement for more information on registration.
